Structure, governance and management

Type of governing document

The organisation is a Scottish Charitable Incorporated Organisation (SCIO) and the governing document is the constitution.

Trustee recruitment and appointment

At each AGM all of the Trustees must retire from office - but may then be re-elected under clause 27 of the constitution. Any person, nominated individual or body who/which wishes to become a Charity Trustee must sign a written application for Charity Trusteeship and this will be considered by the Board at its next meeting.

Objectives and activities

Charitable purposes

Solas Educational Trust was established in Scotland 1999 as a Charitable Trust by a group of professionals of Pakistani origin with the general purpose of assisting in the advancement of education, with reference in particular to Pakistan.

Summary of the main activities in relation to these objects

Solas sees its main activity as the development of education through assisting schools overcome hurdles in the way of their progress. The schools with which we are associated are all not-for-profit community-oriented schools; over the years we have assisted 11 such schools in different ways, from construction of classrooms, water supply and washrooms, to provision of computers and science equipment. Many schools are located in remote areas of the district of Chitral and one of the great benefits that our activity has produced is the contact that is now being made between the schools: something that was uncommon prior to our involvement.

APPENDIX 1

Achievements and performance

Summary of the main achievements of the charity during the financial period

This has been a particularly difficult year and while we have maintained contact with schools, we have been unable to assist schools to the extent that we would like.

Our only contribution was to the Garamchashma Area Development Organisation, a community learning and resource centre.

Financial review

Brief statement of the charity's policy on reserves

The Trust holds reserves in terms of closing balance and investments, which are sufficient to meet the running costs and development of the organisation and its activities.

Details of any deficit

Donated facilities and services (if any)
